

Hey You

Hey you!
you there with hand on your chin.
Staring at the sky
boredom in your eyes
Are you lost?
At what cost.
waiting for life to pass you by?
or waiting for the thrill to kick in.

Hey you.
you there walking with your head down concerned with a frown staring at the ground are you hiding?
been trying too hard to figure out what it's all about or for someone to look you in the eye.

He- ey I recognize your disguise
I am here
Let me whisper in your ear something that will bring you back something beautifully inspiring. light and gay Then (I will let) you can go on your way something to put in your pocket

Hey You
I'll trade you the whisper for a smile Trade your disguise for something wise---er your lie for the truth don't be lost at the cost of Today The whisper of life's secret is on the wind If you just open up your ears and let me whisper in.
